Spectacular Jailbreak at Dallas

By TOM JOHNSON

DALLAS (AP)—Seven prisoners staged a spectacular break from the Dallas County Jail Friday and terrorized a former strip-tease dancer who was about to testify in the Jack Ruby murder trial.

"Oh, my God, he's after me," cried 19-year-old Karen Lynn (Little Lynn) Bennett, as she saw an escapee brandishing what looked like a pistol.

Little Lynn, who worked for Ruby in his Carousel Club, is pregnant and several days overdue for birth.

Four men were recaptured shortly after the break about 3:30 p.m. The other three still were at large today.

The escape wrought shouting confusion in the hallway outside the courtroom where Ruby was on trial, but the session was not interrupted. Few inside were aware of the melee.

"Little Lynn" was being escorted to the women's room by Mrs. Melvin Belli, wife of the head defense lawyer, and Mrs. Rosemary Allen, a sheriff's deputy, when she saw an escapee with a pistol stuck in the back of a hostage, Mrs. Ruth Thornton.

Mrs. Allen shouted for help and then she and Mrs. Belli took "Little Lynn" into the protection of a stairwell, behind a steel door.

Lynn regained her composure after the excitement subsided, and was calm when she took the stand as a witness for the defense.

Sheriff Bill Decker said the escape began when seven prisoners pushed their way into an elevator as it stopped on the sixth floor near a table where the weekly soap ration was being distributed to prisoners and demanded to be taken to the second floor.

There they took the keys from the jailer operating the elevator and poured into the hallway that runs from 40 to 50 feet to the door of Judge Joe B. Brown's court, where Ruby is being tried for the murder of Lee Harvey Oswald, accused assassin of President Kennedy.

Two jailbreakers ran into Probate Court. One—Johnny R. Jenkins, 31—was captured by Burnell Hall and H.H. McKaye, administrative assistants to the probate judge.

The other man—who wielded a realistic pistol fashioned from soap, cardboard and a pencil and painted black with shoe polish—went into Probate Court. He showed a pistol in the back of Mrs. Thornton, about 60, widow of a former district judge, and demanded: "Show me the way to get out of this place."

Mrs. Thornton said he told her he would not harm her if she showed him the way. "I said, 'Let's go,'" she related.

As the escapee and Mrs. Thornton moved toward Judge Brown's court and a stairway leading to the sidewalk, she told newsmen, deputies and spectators to "please step back... please stay back."

Outside, Deputy Sheriff Charles Player took the fake gun from the prisoner. Other deputies then overpowered him. The prisoner, C. David Gregory, 20, was held on armed robbery charges.

Apprehended shortly after the break in different parts of Dallas were Herschel Crocker, 26, sentenced to life in prison for two robberies, and Tommy F. Calverley, 28, convicted of armed robbery. All four are from Dallas.

At large were Randolph R. Hudnall, 21, of West Palm Beach, Fla., being held for military authorities; Billy Ray Brock, 36, Dallas, sentenced to 15 years for robbery; and Leonard F. Driggers, 29, Dallas, in jail for alleged theft.

$14 Million on County Roads

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The state comptroller's office said Thursday 75 Arkansas counties spent $14,614,780 on road programs in 1962 and $12,618,560 on general expenses.

The office reported this left the counties with $5,351,396 in unencumbered funds to begin 1963 operations.

Ash Flat ASC Names Chairman

ASH FLAT, Ark. (AP)—Orvis Nix was elected chairman Thursday of the Ash Flat Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

Lehman Nix was chosen vice chairman and Herbert Nicholson the third member of the committee. The action completed community elections in Sharp County and the county convention will be held March 19 to select a county ASC committee.

Floods Hit Sections of Nation

The week's second snowstorm overspread Rockies and Plains areas today, and river ice jams and floods caused trouble in the Northeast.

The new snow ranged from Montana and Colorado through the Dakotas and northern Nebraska, pressing eastward into the northern Mississippi Valley. Depths ranged from four to six inches.

Violent wind and tornadoes caused at least 12 deaths Wednesday night in the mid-South, and the storm unloaded heavy snowdrifts and rains in the Midwest and Ohio Valley.

The new snow prompted hazardous driving warnings by the Weather Bureau in the northern Plains.

Sharp cold which reached 12 degrees below zero early today in Pellston, Mich., contrasted with a snow-melting warm wave in the East. Albany posted 71 degrees Thursday.

The thaw brought breaks of ice jams and flood damage in Pennsylvania and Vermont.

Rises in the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers, converging on Pittsburgh, caused light flooding.

A bridge over the White River in Vermont, just north of White River junction, collapsed under ice jam pressure severing principal telephone cables connecting northern Vermont with southern New England. A bridge toppled into the LaMoille River at Hardwick.

An ice jam in the Winooski River caused flooding in Montpelier.

Rockefeller Supporters Will Meet

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A Republican State Executive Committee meeting will be held in Little Rock Saturday—but it may consist of only supporters of Winthrop Rockefeller.

Supporters of the Arkansas GOP national committee contend that the meeting called for Saturday is legitimate. But William L. Spicer, chairman of the state party, has called another session March 21.

Spicer said earlier he would not attend the one called by the Rockefeller group.

The split leaves several questions open in party affairs. Spicer has also called a meeting May 21 to elect delegates to the Republican National Convention July 13 at San Francisco, and to nominate a national committee and committee woman.

On the agenda at the March 21 meeting are selected delegates to the state party convention; the call of the convention; budgetary matters and establishment of filing fees.

Four items are scheduled for consideration at the Saturday meeting: recognition of the hiring by Rockefeller of four field men to work at the county and local level, setting a date for the state committee meeting, recommendation of filing fees, and endorsement of the field workers efforts.

Spicer and Rockefeller have been at odds over several matters, including the field men. The state chairman contends that they are working to boost the image of New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller and a brother of Winthrop, in Arkansas as a candidate for GOP presidential nominee.

A spokesman for the Rockefeller supporters on the executive committee said Thursday that even if Spicer does not attend the Saturday meeting, they will attend his meeting two weeks later.

Spicer said most of the items in his call are business matters.

BEATLE INFLUENCE—Bessie Basset heard about the Beatles and their unique hairdos, but thought "Beatles" was pronounced "beagles." Alas, she now knows the truth, which is the reason for the sad look. (The New York bound's blonde locks are only a wig anyway.)

A Backward Look of 25 Years When the Girl Scouts of Hope Built 'Little House'

By MARY ANITA LASETER
Star Feature Writer

It was 25 years ago that the Girl Scout "Little House" was dedicated in ceremonies at Fair Park, and, since Girl Scout Week is next week, let's take a backward peek at early Girl Scouting in Hope.

On Sunday, April 2, 1939 at 3 o'clock Mrs. Robert Campbell (now of Birmingham, Ala.), Commissioner, presided over the formal dedication of the Girl Scout Hut. Mrs. R. E. Jackson, Lt. of Troop 1, offered blessings on the Little House, and Mayor Albert Graves gave a scout history and made a presentation of the key to the Little House. Carolyn Trimble (Mrs. Idus Murphree of Athens, O.), the first First Class Girl Scout of Hope, made the acceptance of the key.

On the programs distributed that day recognition was given to Mayor Albert Graves, W.P.A. Administrator Fletcher (the construction was done by W.P.A. workers), Roy Anderson, Chairman of the Park Commission, Mont Allen, foreman, and Will Garner, caretaker. The latter two are deceased.

Work had begun on the cabin February 17, 1938, and the building was sponsored by the Girl Scout Council with Mrs. Robert Campbell, chairman, and Mrs. Ched Hall, chairman of the building committee. Mrs. Hall is now a house mother at Arkansas College in Batesville.

Four troops in Hope had a total membership of 85. In February 1938 the STAR carried a story which stated this information about them. "Troop 3, 7th and 8th grade girls, was organized 3 years ago, and Mrs. Bert Webb (Tabernacle minister's wife now of Springfield, Mo.) has been the leader the past year. Troop 1, 6th and 7th grade girls, was organized last April with Mrs. Clyde Monte (deceased) as leader. Troop 2, 9th and 10th grade girls, was organized last May by Mrs. J. R. Williams (now of Sheridan) with Miss Mildred McCant (now Mrs. B. E. McMahon of Little Rock) as leader. The Baby Troop 4, 4th and 5th graders, was organized in October with Mrs. Lyman Armstrong (now of Madison, Ind.) and Mrs. Charles Benson as leaders."

There were two patrols in Troops 3, the Tulips and the Buttercups. With Mrs. Bert Webb as captain, the roll included: Martha Ann Alexander (now of Miami, Fla.), Patsy

Ann Campbell (Mrs. Bruce Dunbar, Birmingham, Ala.), Linda Cobb (Mrs. Ed Hartsfield, Alaska), Nancy Jo Coleman (Mrs. George Warren, Ft. Worth), Marilyn Irwin (Mrs. Harold Walker, Wichita Falls, Tex.), Rosalyn Hall (Mrs. John L. Stewart, Denver), Ophelia "Tink" Hamilton (Mrs. H. J. "Bill" Fleming, Columbus, O.), Frances Harrell (Mrs. D. B. Russell, Dallas), Rose Marie Hendrix (Mrs. Rose Marie Shirey, Hope), Mary Ross McFadden (Mrs. Cotton Thomas, Little Rock), Mary Jo Monroe (Mrs. Victor Grane, Kansas City), Dorothy Lee Nesbitt (Mrs. Jerry Connors, Blue Island, Ill.), Carolyn Trimble (already identified), and Emma Pearl Slade, Christine Springs, and Catherine Sterling, (whose married names and present homes are unknown).

In an account of a Girl Scout anniversary observance in Hope in 1938 it was learned that Dorothy Lane Henry (Mrs. Roger Dew, Little Rock), Mary Lou Morgan (Mrs. Ed Tuller, Russellville), Mary Elizabeth King (Mrs. Brack Schenck, Hope), and Gladys Wisener (Mrs. James A. Sorrells, Glenwood) had passed from tenderfoot to second class scouts. On the program Betty Ruth Coleman (who is married and lives in Fort Worth) tied scout knots and Alice Lorraine Heard (Mrs. J. G. Williams, Bartlesville, Okla.) gave a reading. Frances Thomas (Mrs. W. J. Fike, Anchorage, Alaska) and Doris Shields (Mrs. W. F. Faust, Shreveport) gave a knot.

Ground was broken for the Little House by the 12 patrol leaders, each giving part of the G.S. law and promise. On Sunday the four troops and their leaders went to church in a body at the Tabernacle. Tomorrow the girls will go to the new new First Assembly of God for the same observance.

Transplanted Kidney Fails

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The second patient to receive a transplanted kidney at the University of Arkansas Medical Center died Thursday.

The name of the 58-year-old man was not revealed. He died of an infection. The transplanted kidney functioned well, doctors said.

The first patient to undergo a transplant operation also died of an infection.

Greek Nation Mourns Death of King Paul

By GERALD MILLER

ATHENS (AP)—Greece lamented today the death of King Paul I, but confidence in the nation's future tempered grief as his 23-year-old son, Constantine, ascended the throne of the Hellenes.

He became the world's youngest reigning monarch at an hour of national crisis over the dispute between the Greek and Turkish communities on Cyprus.

King Paul, 62 and in the 17th year of his reign, died Friday of a series of complications arising after surgery for a stomach ulcer Feb. 21.

Women wept in the streets as church bells tolled and a lone cannon atop Lycabettus Hill boomed an hourly salute to the dead ruler.

Expressions of regret poured in from world leaders, including President Johnson and U.N. Secretary-General U. Thant.

Sport Constantine—a 6-foot-3 sportsman already beloved by his people as "Tino"—has spent years being groomed for the throne.

Constantine took the oath of service to the Greek people in a solemn candlelight ceremony in the Athens Palace Friday night and his first broadcast to his people was a message from the death chamber of his father:

"This morning I conveyed to my father the feeling of the Greek people who were praying for him and my father said: 'I thank them and say goodbye to them'."

At King Paul's bedside with Constantine in the last moments were Queen Frederika, now the queen mother and Constantine's 22-year-old sister, Princess Irene, now the crown princess and next in line for the throne as long as the new ruler remains childless.

Constantine is engaged to beautiful Princess Anne-Marie of Denmark 17. They will be married in January unless court mourning interferes.

At Tatol, doctors were preparing the body of Paul to be borne into Athens Sunday. For three days the body will lie in state in the Metropolis, the Greek Orthodox Cathedral.

The cream of Europe's royalty is expected in Athens Thursday for the state funeral. Paul will be buried on the Tatol Palace grounds.

Robbery Charge

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Charles Huel Lunsford, 28, will be tried here June 17 on a charge of robbing Miss Carolyn C. Coors when she was abducted in North Little Rock the night of Jan. 27, 1963. Lunsford has waived a jury trial and the State Hospital has found him without psychosis.

Will Develop a Senior Peace Corps

WASHINGTON (AP)—Business and government representatives meet here today to give birth to an "executive service corps," a sort of senior Peace Corps in which American businessmen would donate their talent to private enterprises overseas.

About 50 representatives of U.S. businesses and business groups have been invited to the organizational meeting being held under the auspices of the Agency for International Development, which runs the U.S. foreign aid program.

Results were to be announced in late afternoon. Government sources said President John F. Kennedy approved the service corps idea a week before his death.

Southern States High on Murders

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The FBI issued a preliminary report Thursday showing 16 Southern states consistent leaders in commission of murders.

The states missed by only a percentage point the lead in the increase of all types of crimes in 1963, the report said.

The report showed that the South, with 31 per cent of the nation's population, had 45 per cent of all murders.

The average number of murders per 10,000 population for the nation was 4.5.

Arkansas' average was 7.9, Louisiana's 6.8, Oklahoma's 5.1, Texas 7.2, Missouri 5.5, Tennessee 6.1 and Mississippi 7.3.

Withdrawal Talk Hurts Morale

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk said today that talk of neutralization in Southeast Asia, which implies withdrawal of U.S. support, tends to undermine the morale of the Vietnamese people.

French President Charles de Gaulle has been advocating neutralization as a solution for the U.S.-Communist confrontation in Southeast Asia. Rusk did not specifically say that the French policy was undermining the U.S.-supported war effort of South Viet Nam, but his remarks implied that criticism.

In response to questioning at his news conference, Rusk said that talk of neutralization has injected confusion into a point that should be very simple.

If the Communist countries to the north—Red China and North Viet Nam—would leave Laos and South Viet Nam alone, he said, Laos and South Viet Nam would have peace, and the U.S. efforts in the area would be satisfied.

Rusk said "we're not going to withdraw" support from the Vietnamese struggling for independence against Communist guerrillas.

As to Laos, he said the United States hopes the Communists will live up to their "solemn commitments" of 1954 and 1962 to respect the independence and neutrality of Laos. If they do not do so, he said, "we will have some very serious questions to face."

On other questions, Rusk said:

He is hopeful the United States and Panama can reach an agreement to restore relations and get their differences over the Panama Canal to the conference table "without undue delay."

The United States believes it is important for the Cuban people to discover that a "policy of hostility" toward other countries in the Western Hemisphere "holds no future," either for the Cuban people or for Cuba's Castro government.

Harvard Graduate Ending Up a Bowery Bum Gives Rest of the World Much Pleasure

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Jumping to conclusions—

The rest of the academic world gets a secret pleasure in reading about a Harvard graduate who winds up on the Bowery.

Few gentlemen who still wear garters rent love nests—or get divorces. The male garter today has become a great symbol of caution and respectability.

Firemen and schoolteachers do more moonlighting than workers in any other fields. Few things perk up a tired, middle-aged man more than to have a tired, middle-aged waitress in a beany call him "Honey" when she brings him his bowl of vegetable soup.

People who start collecting string usually are neither thrifty nor stingy. They're really just looking for something in life they've never quite found.

The first man to take off his hat when a woman steps into a crowded office elevator immediately makes enemies of every other man there—but not one in 10 has the moral courage to refrain from following his foolish example of misplaced courtesy.

We always feel superior when we see someone else reading with his lips moving. But why?

After all, he's the one who's learning something—while we are merely indulging our snobbery.

It is scarcity, not taste, that often accounts for value. If caviar were two pounds for a nickel and hot dogs sold for a dollar an inch frankfurters would be the prize delicacy at the cocktail parties of the wealthy, and ladies would turn up their noses at the crass sight of fish eggs and exclaim, "Who can eat those gooney things?"

Youth is stirred to ecstasy by a full moon; age likes to watch a sunrise and murmur to itself, "Well, made it again!"

Whenever I see a child struggling to learn to walk, I always want to advise it, "Take it easy kid. What's the rush? You'll find it's more trouble to get off those feet later than it is to get on them now."

The best restaurants in any town are those which are patronized by rich little old ladies dressed in black lamb or mink furs. Good food is one of the most important pleasures left in their lives, and they have the leisure to search out the best places.

Wit requires an audience. Nobody ever said anything truly memorable in a revolving door.

Senate Debate on Rights Bill Starts Monday

By HARRY KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate begins its historic debate on the civil rights bill Monday.

"We have reached a point where we can no longer evade or avoid this issue," declared Democratic leader Mike Mansfield as he announced he was bringing the controversial measure to the floor.

The way was cleared Friday when the Senate, running behind its timetable, sent to the House by a 53-35 vote the administration's election-year cotton and wheat plan.

The civil rights measure, the most sweeping in this century, is certain to set off a Southern filibuster which some leaders believe may tie up the Senate for months.

But Mansfield said it was time to face the issue and dispose of it "one way or another."

He cautioned, though, that "no senator should be so disillusioned as to think this is going to be an easy matter. Nor should he think, no matter where he comes from, that there is going to be political profit in it."

An early skirmish was already in the offing.

A supporter of the measure, Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., said he would attempt Monday to send the bill to the Judiciary Committee for 10 days of hearings.

The administration had bypassed the Southern-led committee in order to get the bill before the Senate. But Morse said he felt it would be better to follow normal procedures.

Approval of two-thirds of the senators—67 if all 100 are present—is needed to invoke cloture, and the margin is difficult to attain.

Morse—and Mansfield has in past expressed similar feelings—apparently feels it would be the better part of valor to follow the customary pattern and not irritate any support.

But Mansfield said he would fight Morse's plan.

Gentleman's Agreement Is Broken

HAZEN, Ark. (AP)—There is an undercurrent in the 19th Senatorial District for revival of a "gentleman's agreement" that erupted into a court battle in 1960.

Under the agreement Prairie and Lonoke counties alternated in furnishing one of the district's two state senators. White and Woodruff counties, which complete the district, did the same thing.

A breakdown in the agreement between Prairie and Lonoke came when Sen. Jarry J. Screeton of Prairie County refused to step aside to let the Lonoke candidate, J. T. Gunter of Austin, run.

Screeton maintained that Gunter had violated the agreement in the past.

Thursday Eagle Boyd Jr. of Hazen, a member of the Prairie County Democratic Central Committee, said the committee had named a group to talk with Lonoke County committee members.

There is some talk, he said, that the agreement is still in effect since Lonoke County furnished the senator after all in 1960. Screeton won the primary over Gunter but was defeated by Charles George of Cabot in the general election.

No talks have been held yet, and Sam B. Robison, chairman of the Lonoke committee, said he hasn't heard of plans to renew the agreement.

The Lonoke committee meets next Friday, and Robison said he would abide by whatever decision it makes.

George said he will seek reelection in the forthcoming primary.

Bookies Attacked in Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Little Rock police, continuing their war on illegal off-track betting on horse races, warned Thursday that they may charge those placing bets as well as those soliciting them.

Police Chief R. E. Briens said, "It is possible that when we can establish positive identity that we will ask for warrants for those betting slips we are getting."

Many of the slips confiscated by officers have only first names or telephone numbers on them. Police have been making almost daily arrests of persons charged with soliciting gambling bets.

But the only arrests of those making bets have come at raids on establishments where the betting was going on.

The latest arrest was that of Benjamin F. Bennett, 44, Thursday. Officers said he had been under surveillance for several days. He was charged with soliciting gambling.

Mike Todd Out to Fill Dad's Shoes

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Michael Todd Jr., has set out to fill the shoes of the man he admires most—his father.

The late Mike Todd, one of America's most colorful showmen, won his first big success with a production at the 1939 New York World's Fair of "The Hot Mikado," a jazz version of the Gilbert and Sullivan operetta.

His son is hoping to add to the family name in the same place. He is producing a modernized minstrel show at this year's New York World's Fair.

"We're breaking new ground by going back 100 years. The minstrel show is an original American art form. If it hadn't bogged down by being derogatory," said Kenya had agreed to let British army units train jointly in the country with the Kenya army.

U.S. Plans to Display Big Atom Plant

GENEVA (AP) — The United States announced today that it will place one of its largest nuclear power reactors under international inspection in the hope that other countries—and particularly the Soviet Union—will follow suit.

U.S. delegate Adrian S. Fisher told the 17-nation disarmament conference the huge reactor plant at Rowe, Mass., is to be placed under inspection of the International Atomic Energy Agency—IAEA.

Fisher said the United States hopes this step will encourage the Soviet Union and other countries to join in a worldwide system to prevent the misuse of civil reactors for clandestine production of nuclear weapons.

Fisher stressed that the IAEA will be invited to undertake the permanent inspection of the Rowe reactor "whether or not other states reciprocate." But if they do reciprocate, he added, it would be "one of the most significant developments of this conference."

Fisher said three smaller American reactors, two at the Brookhaven, N.Y., research laboratory and one at Piqua, Ohio, are already under IAEA inspection to help the agency develop its procedure for safeguarding the peaceful uses of atomic energy.

The privately owned reactor at Rowe is by far the largest to come under IAEA surveillance. It is rated at a power level of 600,000 thermal kilowatts and produced over one billion kilowatt hours of electricity in 1963.

"The United States does not believe that opening these reactors to international inspection is a derogation of its national sovereignty," Fisher said.

"Nor is the safeguard system simple. It involves record keeping, reporting and inspection, the kind of controls prudent management would naturally set up internally. For purposes of a safeguard system, such controls must be checked and inspected by an external agency."

In a speech at Battambang, the Cambodian chief of state said Thursday that in addition to three MIG 17s recently turned over to Cambodia, the Russians have promised two other MIGs.

Sihanouk said Russia will also provide Cambodia heavy machine guns, 75mm artillery pieces and mortars.

Doctors said mother and daughters were in good condition. The babies weighed 4 pound each.

THE WEEPING WIDOW MINE

THE STORY: Charlie Medders leaves some "bait," in the form of rich nuggets, on the road to Tucson. He knows that Indians will find it and try to trade it for firewater.

VI

When he had tucked those mileposts into the evening gab fests with Miss Storn he had not, of course, been figuring to pull Jones into this, only trying to make sure that in ridding himself of her she didn't come to grief. But the more he'd got to mulling it over the better the whole thing looked with Jones cast again in the role of a big fish. It could be a real lark!

Putting one over on Tiberius Jones had been the kind of thing a man could date time by, and if it happened again the old skink might be laughed clean out of the golframmed country. A lot of those who in the past had been so free with their jeers could be glad to shake the hand of a man who accomplished that. Might even be hailed as a public benefactor!

First stop, he reckoned, might as well be Tiny O'Toole's. He wanted to get this off his hands before T. K. got out an order restraining him and, while the town had more firms engaged in assaying than the amount of moved ore appeared honestly to warrant, none of the others had O'Toole's unique facilities. With the ore disposed of he could leave Begat and Begatta with Frichet while he sought and enjoyed the ministrations of a barber, got himself some new duds and helped the word get around that Charlie Medders — dang his eyes! — had finally made a real winning.

Physically O'Toole was a strapping big six-footer with a black Irish mug, hands like hams, and a mind that was sharper than the proverbial steel trap. Sizing up the burros' packs from behind his stone filled windows, he came out on the street in his stained leather apron to wring Medders' fist like a jovial bear.

"Let's git this stuff under cover," Charlie grumbled cutting short the offered pleasantries with a nervous scowl. "This'll have to be fer cash an' I ain't figurin' to do much standing around."

Charlie threw off the ropes and the big Irishman helped manhandle the packs while the burros, snuffling, began to hunt around for a good place to roll.

Inside, with the first of the sacks opened up and the contents spilled across the top of a counter, Medders stood fidgeting in a squirm of impatience while the misnamed muck considered the ore, once or twice picking up a piece to thoughtfully handle, even lifting one chunk into the garish arc of an overhead Rochester. When, finally, he turned to reach for a hammer, Medders said testily: "Never mind that! Just make me a price!"

O'Toole hung a hip on the counter and stared. He knocked out a briar, scooped it full, tamped and lighted it, still with the blue of his look darkly digging. Through swirls of layering smoke he said thinly, "Twenty-eight hundred."

Medders, livid, commenced stuffing the ore back into his sack.

"Four thousand," O'Toole sighed.

Charlie said, glaring: "This ain't stolen ore."

"Then why such a tearin' sweat to be shed of it?"

"Because," Medders growled, "I don't want it impounded, and O'Toole showed his teeth."

"Now ye're talkin'." Takes some doin' to get ahead of Jones. His bank got out a restraining order right after you took to the brush. Every assayer in town's been warned. Where you think that leaves me if he decides to come down on it?"

"But he can't!" Medders snarled; and O'Toole asked, scornful: "Which of the hierarchy did you git that from?"

You ever hear of a time inside this county when T. K. Jones — the almighty Tiberius — could not seize an' gobble anything he put his mind to?"

"But," Charlie protested, "once it's outta my hands—"

"You don't know that." The blue-jowled Irishman peered irascibly. "I'll go to 52 hundred."

Charlie pawed at his face. "The four of them sacks'll run close to 10 thousand!"

"Well," O'Toole grimaced, dusting off his dukes, "I got to have some kind of margin. Besides, it's peculiar."

"If you mean that muck—" "I'm talkin' about the color." Charlie's eyes rolled. "It's practically pure silver!"

"You heard me. Fifty-two hundred, an' that's as far as I'll go. If it's in your head some nump will cough up more you better grab it. But don't," he warned darkly, "come walkin' in at me if McKarron tromps in afore ye've pocketed yer money."

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — The Hot Springs Civil Service Commission voted unanimously Wednesday to appeal to the state Supreme Court an order to return Patrolman Wayne Miles to the police force. Miles was dismissed Dec. 4, 1962, for conduct unbecoming an officer. Circuit Judge P. E. Dobbs ordered him reinstated.

A Visit With Les Windsors of Paris

By RODNEY ANGOVE

PARIS (AP) — "Come back when we have flowers and sunshine," smiled the Duchess of Windsor.

"Yes," seconded the duke, "and let me know and I'll put on more presentable clothes."

Dropping in on "Les Windsors," as the French call the most famous residents of the Bois de Boulogne, wasn't all that casual. The picture-taking session had to be arranged in advance through a staff of secretaries. The duchess was prepared, but the duke was taken by surprise.

The duchess, busy in town with social engagements, was driven across the spacious grounds in an American limousine painted British racing green, perhaps to match the green license plates of diplomatic status accorded by the French government.

A uniformed doorman met her at the driveway entrance to the squarish three-story house of yellowish sandstone. A bow-tied porter in tails helped carry her things through the wrought-iron double doors.

In a chic white suit, simply cut, the 68 year old duchess gamely ventured a few yards across the spongy lawn in her spike heels so the balconied house would be in the background.

The house is one of the few privately occupied properties in the vast park on the west edge of Paris. It is thinly screened from two thoroughfares by fences and shrubbery.

The couple has rented the home from the city of Paris since 1953. The duke and duchess have lived outside Britain since their marriage in 1937, following the duke's abdication as King Edward VIII.

Asked if the duke would join her, the duchess touched her lips with surprise. "Oh dear. He didn't know who was invited. But we'll call him anyway."

The duke, 68, arrived shortly. "Photographs? Oh no, I'm not at all dressed for it," he said, patting his broad, loosely knotted necktie and short jacket of four-inch blue squares, a pattern the French call "Prince of Wales."

"Oh yes you are, dear," encouraged the duchess. "They can say you are in your country clothes."

A devotee of the countryside, the duke puts in his weekends working in the gardens of their rented 23-acre tract. He does much of the actual digging.

He still plays golf every week.

Labor Makes Attack on Ordinances

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas labor is mounting a steady and successful attack on city ordinances restricting union organizing.

The latest success came Wednesday when the Osceola City Council repealed an anti-union ordinance passed in 1957.

The council action came in the face of a suit attacking the ordinance which had been scheduled for hearing March 17 in U.S. District Court at Jonesboro.

The suit was dismissed after the ordinance was repealed.

The ordinance required a licensing fee of $1,000 a day from union organizers working in Osceola.

It was similar to an ordinance at Trumann declared unconstitutional by Municipal Judge H. L. Methvin in December.

Star City repealed a similar ordinance some time ago.

James Youngdahl of Little Rock, attorney for the Arkansas AFL-CIO, said suits will be filed attacking such ordinances in Harrisburg, Marked Tree, Nashville and DeWitt.

DOROTHY DIX

THERE ARE 4 kinds etc.

By DR. JOYCE BROTHERS

Dear Dr. Brothers: I know I'm just one lone husband raising my voice in the wilderness to complain about women's approach to housekeeping. They all are compulsive cleaners who don't give a man a moment's peace. Why all this preoccupation with minute specks of dust? —Harr.

Women aren't all alike, and especially not in their house-keeping.

Our top authority on this is probably the Bissell Home Service Institute, the sponsor of home-making studies at Cornell University. Here's what the Institute has to say about this:

Housewives have sharp differences in their attitudes upon domestic duties, and the way they clean a house. The difference comes from personality. The Institute finds that there are four types of dust-conscious housewives.

First: The compulsive cleaner must perform every day, or isn't relaxed at night. Compulsive cleaners just can't short-cut, and use the time saved to relax. The wife is downright miserable, thinking about the housework she hasn't done, or isn't doing.

Two: The impulsive cleaner. Out of the blue, and without warning, she gets house-conscious. Suddenly, she can't sit down and relax so, impulsive cleaners attack from cellar to attic furiously. But mere surface clutter doesn't usually count. Stacked things like newspapers don't bother her. That is, provided the tables they're on are polished.

Three: The clutter cleaner. Nonvisible challenges like hidden dust behind bookcases, or a husband's tippy-turvy closet don't bother her. It's more or less "out of sight, more or less out of mind." Notwithstanding, the clutter cleaner in this case can't relax until all the children's toys are stacked away, partly-used ash trays are whisked away from under her husband's cigarette or pipe, and all bureau drawers are securely closed. The clutter cleaner's target: Everything must look right. What callers don't see doesn't matter. She's an impressionist. Her aim: To impress others.

Four: The casual cleaner. She's the luckiest. So is her husband. She couldn't care less if the foyer abounds with non-necessities. She's much more absorbed with television, radio, or a good novel. She housecleans only when necessary. Personality: Well-adjusted. Men dream about her in their marital fantasies. She's their ideal.

Suppose your housework personality doesn't mesh with the man in your life. What to do? Don't engage in a domestic cold war, the experts say. Do this:

Suppose you're a compulsive cleaner. Try to curb this dust-chasing compulsion until your husband isn't home. Then, let fly with brooms, and cleaners, and mops all you want. Suppose you're a clutter cleaner. You'll find you'll clash with a male who's a saver and hoarder of newspapers and magazines, and odd bits of seemingly worthless machinery and wood and wires, and just plain junk of all sorts.

How to insure domestic peace? Give him one room he can pile to the ceiling and rafters with all this junk. Then, go ahead and release your impulses on the rest of the house.

Say you're a casual cleaner. Husband bristles at a disorderly living room when he returns from work, where his desk was order itself. Cure for the conflict: Relax all you want during the day, have fun, but pick up fast just before he gets home. So, if you are domestic type one, two, three or four, that's how to live with it, and reasonably placate the man who seems so unduly concerned.

Why Able Man Loses Job

Dear Dr. Brothers: My husband has been fired twice from jobs that really were not good enough for him. He has more ability in his little pinky than the men who were kept on. Why has he been so unlucky? —B.G.

Dear B.G.: Many men with great ability get fired because they somehow haven't been able to bring their talents to bear on their work.

They want to succeed, they have the native ability to succeed, and yet they fall short, losing out to less capable men.

A University of California study pinpoints the difficulty, and take the first steps in explaining it. The problem is usually boredom. Many things can make a man bored with his job, and some jobs are naturally tedious.

Identical Twins in Identical Wrecks

LAFAYETTE, Colo. (AP)—Dwight and David Peterson, 18-year-old identical twins, lost control of their cars which crashed over an embankment, one after the other, Thursday. Dwight, driving his mother's car, lost control on the gravel road and it swerved over the bank. David was right behind in his own car. State patrolman A.L. Ramsey said the boy told him he seemed to freeze at the wheel and his car, too, plunged off the road. Dwight suffered a cut finger but his twin escaped injury.

There were no automobiles in Arkansas in 1900, but within two years there were four in Little Rock.

OXFORD, England (AP) - The Beatles visited Oxford last night but the quiet of the quadrangles went virtually undisturbed.

While the champions of low brow music were dining with Sir Noel Hall, principal of Brasenose College, some teenagers converged on the campus.

But the Beatles evaded their fans by slipping out a side door.

NEW YORK (AP) - A woman aide to President Johnson, to the surprise of no one, says she fully agrees with the President that politics is "not a stag affair."

Johnson made the remark Tuesday in appointing 10 women to top government jobs.

Mrs. Esther Peterson, special assistant to the president for consumer affairs, said in a speech in New York that women will have many opportunities in politics under the Johnson administration.

NEW YORK (AP) - Sometimes, says former Ambassador Robert D. Murphy, the United States should deal directly with a provocation "whether in Panama, Ghana or Cuba."

Murphy, former U.S. ambassador to Japan and Belgium, said in a speech to Marquette University alumni:

"I believe we have swung too far in collective diplomacy. We are prone to take refuge in the crowd."

Celebrates His 35th Year as Cop

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) - Regis Toomey is celebrating this month his 35th anniversary as a cop.

Over those years he has served as patrolman, detective, uniformed man, plainclothesman, captain and commissioner. He often has taken leave of the force to be a private eye, a chief investigator, an insurance investigator and a newspaper reporter.

After all this experience, Toomey today is a mere detective sergeant, running errands for that rich, glamorous, girl-chasing, intrepid captain of homicide, Amos Burke, who weekly solves a case on ABC's "Burke's Law."

Toomey, an open-faced man with white hair and twinkling blue eyes is a performer who never has objected seriously to Hollywood's type-casting. It has worked out fine for him. When Hollywood producers need a cop, they automatically ask for Regis Toomey.

"I've worked almost steadily since 1929," the actor said. "Once in awhile I've been cast as a villain, but mostly I've been a policeman, although sometimes a bad one."

He played his first policeman in "Alibi," with Chester Morris in 1929, the first all-talking gangster movie. Since then he has done 225 movies.

"Burke's Law" is his fifth television series, and he's been an officer in them all. He has also done guest shots in more than 135 shows.

"It's been a good, busy life," he said complacently. "But once in a while it would have been nice if I could have gotten the girl at the end."

"Burke's Law" has proved one of the season's more popular series this season and will return for another year of happy homicide.

Sargent Shriver will not be able to keep his "Meet the Press" date on NBC Sunday. Ed Sullivan has Steve Lawrence, a smash in Broadway's new musical "What Makes Sammy Run?" doing some songs on Sunday's show.

Comedian Jerry Van Dyke who disappeared quietly from "The Judy Garland Show" will play a dramatic role—his first—on The March 26 "Perry Mason."

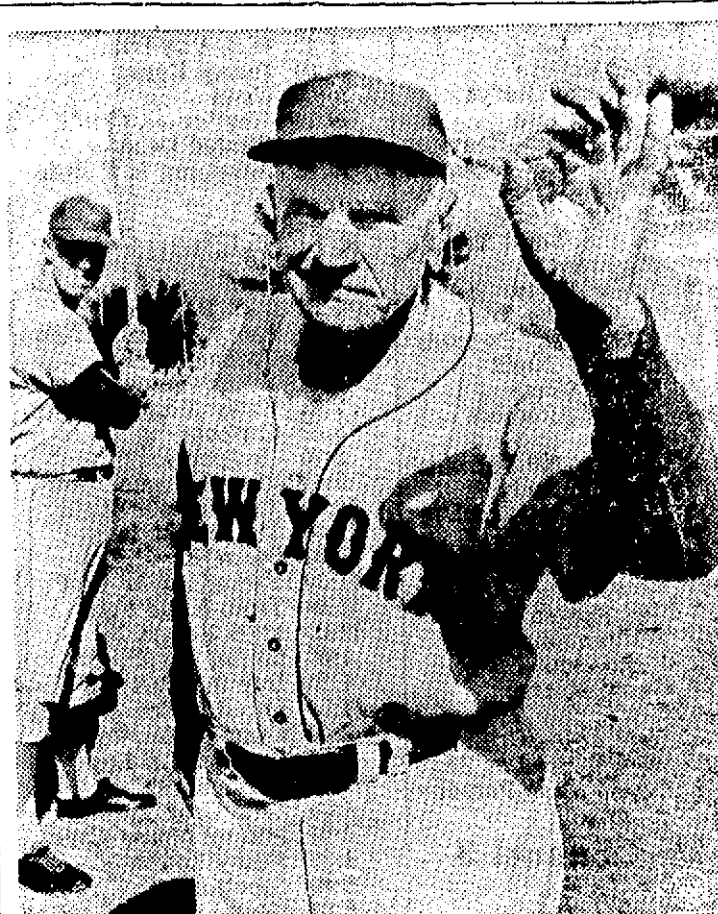

Ed McMahon has NBC's permission to continue as host on "Missing Links" when it moves to ABC. But ABC is considering Dick Clark for the sub. The latter has a contract and must be paid even after his short-lived game show, "The Object Is" disappears.

An old squaw was once heard to declare, "If white men knew what is in Norristown Mountain, their horses would wear silver shoes." On this mountainside a great red lizard surrounded by Indian pictures and writing was painted long ago. In spite of the rains of many years, it is still unfaded. Treasure hunters have dug in vain all around this landmark.

LONDON (AP) - Quote of the day: Laborite George Wigg, ordered by the speaker of the House of Commons to apologize after calling Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas - Home a "squalid incompetent little creature," retorted: "If I am being offensive, I am trying to be."

HIGH SIGN—Casey Stengel gives the high sign at Huggins-Stengel Field in St. Petersburg, Fla., that indicates the manager believes the New York Mets will be O.K. Backing up the Old Porfessor's optimistic gesture is first baseman Bill Iltas, obtained from the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Poor Doctor Faces Year on the Run

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) - Poor Dr. Richard Kimble will have to face another year on the run.

Doc Kimble, played by David Janssen on ABC's "The Fugitive," is the pediatrician who was bum-rapped on a murder charge and escaped en route to the death house. Ever since he has been dodging the police, while striving to find the one-armed man whodunit.

A lot of doubting Thomases, including this one, said you couldn't sustain a television series about a guy on the lam.

"The Fugitive" became one of the few real hits of the 1963-64 season. It has been renewed for next year.

The show's success failed to surprise Janssen. Says he: "If you have faith in the integrity of the people involved in a production, as I did with Quinn Martin and his staff, then you don't worry so much about whether a premise is going to pay off."

"Actually, we're not as limited in this show as you might think. Sure, the doctor has to keep on the move, but that can be an advantage. There is no sameness to the show. I don't have to scrub up for surgery every week. I don't have to report to precinct headquarters on each show. I get a change not only of surroundings and characters every week; I also change jobs."

Janssen admitted the series is hard work. Besides the running, he gets involved in strenuous occupations. "There is no sidekick of the fugitive; he is in 85 per cent of the hour-long shows."

The physical aspects contrast with his last series, in which he played the suave sleuth Richard Diamond. "My biggest hazard in that show was falling off a bar stool," he said.

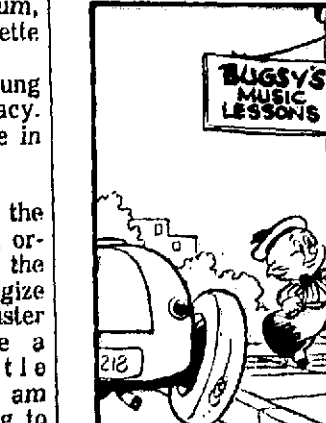

How long can "The Fugitive" keep running?

"How long can the 'Wagon Train' keep rolling?" he countered. My guess is that we could go three years without exhausting the story possibilities."

Bobcats Hot, Blast Camden in Tourney

By CARTER HARDAGE
Hope Star SportsWriter

Cracking down on defense and racking up at the charity line, the Bobcats earned themselves a berth in the state tourney by clobbering Camden 69-47 at the District Tournament last night in Malvern.

The Cats' win will earn them a shot at Malvern and the 4AA crown tonight. With the title on the line, both teams will be out gunning. So Bobcats fans, GO TO MALVERN AND SUPPORT THE CATS. Game time will be 8:30.

Asked for a comment, Coach Billy Mitchell stated, "We want the whole town there tonight."

With proper support, Hope can take the title right out from under the Leopard's nose. Playing at home, Malvern will naturally have an advantage. But it will be an advantage that can be offset by a good turnout of Bobcat fans. So, again, be sure and go to Malvern.

Getting back to last night, Hope played an improved brand of defense. During the season it was regular for a team to score 70 or over against the Cats, sometimes as much as 89. Last night there was a big hunk cut out of the scoring. Camden was cut down to 47.

And the Bobcats showed improvement on free throws, too. Averaging right around 50 per cent for the season, they came up to 75 last night. All in all, chances look very good for tonight.

Hope started off the game by taking the lead 11-6 at the end of the First Quarter. Going way to fix the 1962 jury in Nashville which was unable to agree on a verdict in Hoffa's conspiracy trial.

Others convicted were Ewing King, former Teamsters president in Nashville; Larry Campbell, Teamsters business agent in Detroit; and his uncle, Thomas E. Parks of Nashville. Each faces a maximum of 5 years in prison and fines of $5,000.

All those convicted are free under bond, and all plan to appeal. In addition their lawyers have promised to file for new trials Monday. The deadline for this is Tuesday.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) - Teamsters President James R. Hoffa will be sentenced next Thursday as a result of his conviction on a charge that he tried to fix a federal court jury. He faces a maximum of 10 years in prison and $10,000 in fines.

U.S. Judge Frank Wilson set the date for sentencing today, at the same time overruling a defense motion for a mistrial on grounds that the government had kept Hoffa, those on trial with him and their lawyers under illegal watch during the trial. Hoffa and three others were convicted Wednesday of trying

"I Shall Keep This Lent"

"LENT" means springtime. It is an old Latin word which means a forty day fasting period next before Easter. It begins with Ash Wednesday and continues till Easter; exclusive of Sundays.

It is a time for the conditioning of our soil . . . a time for our Souls to become penitent. It simply means that it is spading up time, the season for planting seeds and for setting blooming trees.

In the realm of the spirit it is a call to get ready for the season of beauty and goodness.

Who amongst us is satisfied with what he is or what he has been? Then let us qualify for the Lenten Season. Let us clear away the rubbish of last year's crop, cut under the old stalks. May we learn from our Lord to give ourselves to good conditioning during Lent. The miracle of Lent is genuine repentance which leads to Newness of Life. A Sainly Keeper of Lent said it well when he spoke the words, "I shall keep this Lent, and hope to refresh my Soul." Amen
